

When sending back your water sample from a non-EU country to our laboratory please read:

There are collection points for your water sample for several countries, please check on the list below, if your country is listed and use this address as recipient (samples can be sent as domestic mail to these addresses). We strongly recommend using these collection points as due to changed regulations most samples sent directly to the laboratory are held in customs causing very long shipping times. The declaration with form CN 22 is invalid and a smooth customs clearance cannot be guaranteed with it.

Shipments that are held in customs or by shipper due to insufficient postage will not be accepted!

Thank you for your cooperation.

Tips and info for shipping ICP tests

To get water samples safely to their destination, we have the following tips:

- Apply sufficient postage (if in doubt, check with the post office).
- Attach stamps securely: use self-adhesive stamps, stick wet adhesive stamps on the envelope and not on the smooth address label or secure the stamp with extra adhesive.
- Use tracking options.
- Indicate sender on the outside of the shipment: in case of problems, the sender can be easily notified by the post office or by us.

After the sample arrives at the lab, a confirmation of receipt will be sent by email if the sample is registered on the lab website.

Normal postal delivery time is 1 - 7 business days within Germany and 2 to 14 business days for international shipments. If the water sample has still not arrived after 14 days, please submit a follow-up request to your shipping company.
